

GRETZKY HOCKEY SCHOOL

AT A GLANCE

The Gretzky Hockey School was founded by Ty Gretzky and his famous Hall of Fame father, #99, Wayne Gretzky in 2014. What started as a single week school in Coeur d'Alene, ID, now stretches across 12 different cities across North America. The hockey school needed a flexible, high-performance training environment that could adapt to different locations and support its NHL-inspired approach to player development.

"VersaCourt has been an incredible addition to the Gretzky Hockey School. Our goal has always been to give kids an experience that goes beyond the ice. VersaCourt gives them a place to compete, play and just be kids during our ball hockey sessions. It looks amazing, the quality is great, and the kids absolutely love it. It's become a big part of the energy and experience of our hockey schools in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho."
— Ty Gretzky, Founder
